

A micrograph showing a textured surface with a central dark region. A red scale bar is overlaid on the image, indicating a length of 0.02 mm to 0.04 mm. The surface appears to have a granular or cellular structure, with the dark region possibly representing a different material or a defect.

0.02 mm - 0.04 mm